FORWARD

It has truly been a pleasure in abstracting this newspaper. Like many other researchers, I was drawn to the paper because I had so many lines in Taylor County and while I was looking.....well, might as well look for everybody else too.

One of the important things about this type of research in this time period is that it helps fill in the gaps left by the absence of the 1890 census. Also, there were so many children who were born and died early due to epidemics of measles or typhoid fever. Only in the newspaper could you find a trace of their short lives. Finally, there were some migrations to Texas and Florida during this period that were significant. If you "lost" your ancestor all of a sudden, he or she could have moved to one of these states. Often I found wonderful letters home from these far away places telling of what life was like there. Also, they often gave the news of the local transplants.

Do be aware that many issues of the paper were missing. Many were torn and had parts gone. Most of the information abstracted was on page 3 with occasionally an article on page 2. Names were commonly misspelled, but they were written just as they were in the paper. Therefore always look for several spellings of the name for which you are searching. Be advised that sometimes the name was torn off or could not be read. I included that information as well because one might be able to recognize the facts in the story enough to know the person was your ancestor.

It seems likely to me that Taylor County had a paper prior to this one in 1876. I get that impression from the first few papers in this series. However, I have not found any evidence of it.

I hope this book is a help to you in some way. I found many bits of information on my ancestors that added a new dimension to what I already knew. It has to me been well worth the time and effort. I hope to continue now with a second volume into the 20th century.

INTRODUCTION

On behalf of the Central Georgia Genealogical Society and its Publication Committee, I wish to express our gratitude and appreciation to Marilyn Niesler Windham of Fort Valley, GA for her contribution of her newspaper abstractions from The Butler Herald of Butler, Georgia between 1876 and 1896. Her work was donated for publication by our Society. We also wish to thank the R.J. Taylor, Jr., Foundation who awarded the Central Georgia Genealogical Society a grant to cover the printing costs. Without their assistance the project may not have been undertaken. The Foundation also absorbed the expense for publishing some thirty-three additional hard bound copies for which twenty-eight will be distributed to various libraries, of their choice, within the United States.

Marilyn is currently serving as Historian-Archivist for our Society. She writes a frequent historical/genealogical column for The Macon Telegraph. She is a member of the Fort Valley Historical Society and recently was primarily responsible for a local effort to establish Everett Square as a National Register Historic District - a project that took seven years.

Many issues are missing for early years and some are shown on one page. For this reason we omitted printing a content page.

Again our thanks to Marilyn and the R.J. Taylor, Jr., Foundation.
